GLEN TAYLOR

OWNER

On March 23, 1995, Glen Taylor closed the deal that made him majority owner of the Minnesota Timberwolves. He added the title of NBA franchise owner to a list that already included international businessman, state senator, entrepreneur, philanthropist and executive of the year.

Before he even completed his first full season as owner, Taylor set in motion his plan for making a mark on the Minnesota sports scene. Prior to the completion of the sale of the team from Marv Wolfenson and Harvey Ratner, Taylor had installed Rob Moor and Roger Griffith as the team's president and chief financial officer, respectively, and promoted Minnesota and NBA basketball legend Kevin McHale to assistant general manager. With the move of McHale to vice president of basketball operations and the addition of head coach Phil "Flip" Saunders and director of scouting and player development (and now assistant coach) Jerry Sichting, Taylor has assembled a basketball staff with years of experience in the pro ranks.

Taylor is Chairman of the Board of Taylor Corporation, located in Mankato, Minn., 75 miles southwest of the Twin Cities. The Taylor companies, which are involved in the printing, marketing and electronics industries, include more than 70 operating divisions in 19 states, three Canadian provinces, the United Kingdom, Australia and Mexico. Their employees number more than 12,000, including more than 5,000 Minnesotans.

Taylor built his company from modest beginnings. While a student at Mankato State University in 1959, he took a part-time job at Carlson Wedding Service. Fifteen years later, in 1974, he acquired a majority interest in the company, laying the foundation for what would soon grow into Taylor Corporation. Taylor Corporation is the nation's largest printer of wedding invitations, controlling more than half that market. Many of the companies' products are sold through independent vendors such as gift and stationery stores.

Taylor's business savvy has been recognized by Corporate Report magazine, which honored him as its Executive of the Year (1987), and the Sales and Marketing Executives of Minneapolis/St. Paul, who awarded him with their Sales Executive of the Year Award (1999). Additionally, he was inducted into the Minnesota Hall of Fame (2002) by Twin Cities Monthly Magazine.

Taylor was elected to the Minnesota Senate in 1980, where he served until 1990. He became assistant Senate minority leader in 1982. From 1984 to 1986, he served as Senate minority leader. While in the Senate, Taylor was instrumental in providing leadership in the areas of higher education, child care and economic development policies.

Through personal involvement, Taylor has remained active in many civic and charitable causes. In Mankato, he has served as YMCA President, Chamber of Commerce Director, Mankato Jaycees President and United Way Campaign Chairman. He has also served on his church's board of deacons and board of trustees and on the Mankato State University Foundation board of directors. On the state level, Taylor has served as the director of the Minnesota Business Partnership, director of the Greater Minnesota Corporation and president of the International Thermographers Association.

Nationally, Taylor has provided expert testimony on business and child care issues to the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives and served as a committee chair on the 1991 Commission on Reform and Efficiency (CORE).

In 1997, Mankato State University awarded Taylor its first honorary doctorate. Taylor received the degree of Honorary Doctor of Laws for his distinguished professional career and volunteer service. In October 2001, Taylor was inducted into the Minnesota State University, Mankato Hall of Distinction.

Taylor was born April 20, 1941, and raised on a farm 60 miles west of his current home in Mankato. He graduated from Comfrey (Minn.) High School in 1959. In just three years, he earned his bachelor's degree in mathematics, physics and social science from Mankato State University. He later continued his education at the Harvard Graduate School of Business.

Taylor lives in Mankato. His children, Terri, Jean, Taylor Moor, Jeff and Kenny, and grandchildren, Andrea, Melissa, Grayson, and Emma, and great-granddaughter, Piper Rose, enjoy attending many of the Timberwolves games.

KEVIN McHALE

VICE PRESIDENT OF BASKETBALL OPERATIONS/ GENERAL MANAGER

On Oct. 1, 1999, Kevin McHale was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass. In the typical McHale style, he gave credit to his teammates for helping him to get there. But no one goes into the Hall of Fame without a lot of hard work and personal accomplishment. McHale's Hall of Fame career was marked by his constant desire to improve his play and single-minded focus to win every game he played. That's how he played the game as a power forward/center in Boston, and that is how he's building the Timberwolves team as the vice president of basketball operations/general manager in Minnesota.

McHale wasted no time in working to improve the Timberwolves. One of McHale's first moves came shortly after he was named to his current post on May 11, 1995 - he selected high-school phenom Kevin Garnett with the fifth overall pick in the 1995 NBA Draft. Considered a bold move at the time, McHale and his staff were rewarded with an outstanding rookie campaign from Garnett. Garnett's improvement and McHale's continual reshaping of the Wolves' roster have resulted in six consecutive years of playoff basketball in Minnesota.

McHale has had a history of success in the game of basketball. In high school, he led Hibbing to the Minnesota Class AA State Basketball Tournament title game; in college, he posted a career average of 15.2 points and 8.5 rebounds per game in four seasons at the University of Minnesota, earning first-team All-Big Ten honors in 1979 and 1980; and in the pro ranks, he joined the Boston Celtics for three NBA championships, the first coming in his rookie season with the team.

McHale continued that tradition of quick successes with the Timberwolves, moving from special assistant in 1993-94 to assistant general manager in 1994-95, to his latest endeavor as vice president of basketball operations/general manager. In his current role, McHale is responsible for the franchise's entire basketball operations department - overseeing player personnel decisions, scouting and the coaching staff.

In McHale's first season with the Wolves, 1993-94, he served as a special assistant to the coaching staff. That position utilized the experience of his lengthy basketball career, which culminated in the retiring of his pro, college and high-school game jerseys. In August 1994, he was promoted to the newly-created position of assistant general manager.

For two seasons, 1993-95, fans enjoyed the insight and wit he brought to his broadcast analysis on the Timberwolves Television Network. His unique style and perspective, combined with the talents of Kevin Harlan, Chad Hartman and Tom Hanneman, made for one of the top local broadcasts in the NBA. With the demands of his vice-president position, McHale relinquished his broadcasting duties with the Wolves.

Prior to coming to the Timberwolves organization, McHale played 13 seasons for the Celtics before retiring in the spring of 1993. A first-round selection (third overall) by Boston in the 1980 NBA Draft, McHale helped lead the Celtics to three NBA championships (1981, 1984 and 1986), five Eastern Conference titles and eight Atlantic Division crowns. He was voted the NBA's top sixth man twice (1984, 1985) and was selected to the All-NBA First Team in 1987. He was also named to the NBA All-Defensive First Team three times (1986, 1987 and 1988). The 6-10 forward/center averaged 17.9 points and 7.3 rebounds in 971 career regular-season games. He shot an impressive 55.4 percent from the floor and 79.8 percent at the free throw line. In 169 postseason contests, McHale increased his averages to 18.8 points and 7.4 rebounds.

In addition to being named to the Basketball Hall of Fame, McHale has received other honors for his basketball prowess. On July 8, 2000, he was inducted into the National High School Sports Hall of Fame. On Feb. 18, 1995, he was honored as the top player in U of M men's basketball history, as the school celebrated its 100th anniversary in the sport. During the 1997 All-Star Game in Cleveland, he was honored as one of the NBA's Top 50 Players for the league's first half-century.

A native of Hibbing, Minn., McHale was born Dec. 19, 1957. He and his wife, Lynn, along with their five children, Kristyn, Michael, Joseph, Alexandra and Thomas, reside in North Oaks, Minn.

FLIP SAUNDERS
HEAD COACH

For Timberwolves head coach Phil "Flip" Saunders, each season brings more successes. Saunders completed his sixth full season on the Wolves bench in 2001-02, and has led Minnesota to six straight postseason appearances and five consecutive .500+ records. Under his leadership, the Timberwolves completed the 2001-02 regular season with a 50-32 record, tying the franchise record set two years ago.

During the 2000-01 campaign, Saunders led the Wolves to 47 victories (47-35), including a franchise-record 11-game winning streak, which was also a league best. Additionally, he guided the team to a fifth consecutive postseason appearance.

In 1999-2000, Saunders led the Wolves to a franchise-best 50 victories and a fourth consecutive postseason appearance.

During the 1998-99 season, Saunders held together a club that lost two key players and numerous others to injury to record a 25-25 mark.

In 1997-98, Saunders coached the Wolves to their first-ever winning season (45-37). He also led the team to its first-ever postseason victory as the Timberwolves beat the Seattle SuperSonics twice before falling in the final game of the best-of-five playoff series.

In his first full season as the team's head coach, 1996-97, Saunders became the all-time winningest coach in franchise history, leading the team to a then all-time best record (40-42) and its first playoff appearance.

After seven seasons as a coach in the Continental Basketball Association (CBA), Saunders was named general manager of the Timberwolves on May 11, 1995. But his stay in a front-office-only capacity was to be short-lived. On Dec. 18, 1995, he added the title of head coach to his resume, replacing Bill Blair. Saunders guided the Timberwolves to a 20-42 (.323) mark in 62 games during the 1995-96 season, and was instrumental in the significant development of rookie Kevin Garnett and a change in the team's attitude on the floor and in the locker room.

Saunders has a 277-245 (.531) record in 522 games at the Timberwolves' helm. In his six full seasons as head coach, he has a 257-203 (.559) mark.

Saunders' record of basketball coaching success has a history of its own. He ranks third all-time in the CBA with 253 victories. He began his CBA career in 1988-89 with the Rapid City (S.D.) Thrillers, then moved on to the La Crosse (Wis.) Catbirds for five seasons (1989-94) before coaching the 1994-95 campaign with the Sioux Falls (S.D.) Skyforce. He also served as general manager (1991-93) and team president (1991-94) of the Catbirds.

Saunders' impressive coaching resume includes seven consecutive seasons of 30 or more victories, two CBA championships (1990, 1992), two CBA Coach of the Year honors (1989, 1992) and 23 CBA-to-NBA player promotions.

In September 2001 he led the United States men's basketball team to a perfect 5-0 record and a gold medal at the Goodwill Games in Brisbane, Australia.

Saunders began his successful coaching career at Golden Valley Lutheran College, where he compiled a 92-13 record, including a perfect 56-0 mark at home, in four seasons. In 1981, he joined the coaching staff at his alma mater - the University of Minnesota - as an assistant and helped coach the Golden Gophers to the 1982 Big 10 championship. After five seasons at Minnesota, he moved to an assistant coach position at the University of Tulsa, where he worked for two seasons before heading to the pro ranks.

Saunders was an All-America basketball player at Cuyahoga Heights High School in Cleveland. In his senior season, 1973, he was named Ohio's Class A High School Basketball Player of the Year after averaging a state-high 32.0 points a game. He continued his basketball career at Minnesota, where he started 101 of his 103 career contests. As a senior, he teamed with Kevin McHale, now the Timberwolves' vice president of basketball operations/general manager, to lead the Gophers to a then all-time school-best 24-3 record.

Saunders was born Feb. 23, 1955, in Cleveland, Ohio. Flip and his wife, Debbie, have four children: Ryan, Mindy and twins, Rachel and Kimberly.

Sichting acquired an in-depth knowledge of the pro game from his 10 seasons as a player in the NBA. He began his career in 1980 and spent the following five seasons with the Indiana Pacers, averaging a career-high 11.5 points per game during the 1983-84 season. In 1985, Sichting signed with the Boston Celtics as a free agent and became an integral reserve. In 1986, he teamed with Kevin McHale, now Timberwolves vice president of basketball operations/general manager, to lead the Celtics to the World Championship. That season he averaged 6.5 points while shooting 57.0 percent from the floor and 92.4 percent at the free throw line.

Midway through the 1987-88 campaign, he was traded to the Portland Trail Blazers. He finished his playing career in 1989-90 as a member of the Charlotte Hornets and Milwaukee Bucks. Sichting appeared in 598 career regular-season games, recording an average of 6.9 points and 3.3 assists per game.

After his playing career ended, he remained in Boston and ran the Jerry Sichting Basketball Camp for five years. He also spent four seasons (1991-95) serving as the analyst on Celtics' radio broadcasts.

In March of 2002, Sichting was inducted into the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame. A 1979 graduate of Purdue University, he was captain of the 1978-79 Boilermakers squad which captured the Big 10 championship.

It is Wittman's second tour with the team, as he was an assistant coach for five seasons (1994-95 - 1998-99) prior to departing for Cleveland. Wittman originally came to Minnesota from the Dallas Mavericks, where he spent the 1993-94 season as an assistant coach under Quinn Buckner. Prior to joining the Mavericks, he served one season (1992-93) on Bob Hill's staff with the Indiana Pacers.

A 1983 graduate of Indiana University, Wittman played nine seasons in the NBA. He was a first-round draft choice of the Washington Bullets, but was dealt to the Atlanta Hawks prior to the start of the 1983-84 campaign. During his NBA playing career, Wittman saw action with the Hawks, Sacramento Kings and Pacers. He averaged 7.4 points per game, shooting 50.1 percent from the floor in 543 career games.

OCTOBER/NOVEMBER (10-4)

The Wolves opened up the year winning their first six games and finishing October/November with a 10-4 record, going 9-4 in the month of November, the most successful November in franchise history. The Wolves added three newcomers–Gary Trent and rookies Loren Woods and Maurice Evans–and welcomed back former Wolf Joe Smith. Opening the season with wins over Philadelphia, Memphis, Houston, and New York, Minnesota highlighted its winning streak with a 53-point triumph over Chicago, the largest victory in club history. After posting a win in Milwaukee, the Wolves lost their first game against Cleveland. With the lead changing hands several times throughout the game, Cleveland sank six straight free throws in the final 20 seconds to seal the victory, 107-103. It took double overtime for the Wolves to score their next win, over Indiana. Down 11 points in the third quarter, Minnesota went on a 16-4 run, eventually sending the game into a second overtime. With the Wolves' balanced scoring attack, and Indiana missing nine straight shots to open the final OT, Minnesota prevailed, 120-113. For his outstanding play the week of November 12-18, Kevin Garnett was named NBA Player of the Week. Garnett recorded 24.3 ppg, 13.3 rpg, and 6.0 apg, while the Wolves finished 2-1. The following week, Minnesota announced the retirement of forward Tom Hammonds. The Wolves then finished out the month 3-3, hoisting victories over Orlando, Miami, and San Antonio, yet falling to Orlando, Seattle, and the Los Angeles Clippers.

DECEMBER (10-5, 20-9)

Minnesota completed the month of December with a 10-5 mark, the best December in franchise history. The Wolves started out the month losing the last game of their West Coast swing to the Los Angeles Lakers, 102-76. Minnesota then went on a 6-0 run, posting wins over Seattle, Memphis, Houston, Golden State, Utah, and Sacramento. During that stretch, the Wolves outscored their opponents by an average of nearly 19 points a game. After losing to Dallas on the road, Minnesota played Dallas again at Target Center three days later. The Wolves held a comfy 16-point lead at halftime, but Dallas tied it up with two minutes left to play. Tim Hardaway's '3' sealed the Wolves' fate with 18 seconds remaining, as the Mavs won 107-103. At one point during the game, Minnesota held a 22-point lead, resulting in the largest blown lead in club history. One day after losing to New Jersey, Wolves guard Terrell Brandon underwent arthroscopic surgery due to synovitis in his left knee. Without Brandon in the lineup, Minnesota finished out the month 4-1, losing in Sacramento, yet victorious over Charlotte, Chicago, Denver, and Portland. On Dec. 28, the NBA restored the Wolves' first-round draft pick for the 2005 draft.

JANUARY (11-5, 31-14)

Minnesota began the month of January with eight straight wins, extending their winning streak to nine in a row–the second-longest winning streak in club history. The Wolves triumphed over Milwaukee, Utah, Atlanta, and Detroit, before hosting Seattle at Target Center. Anthony Peeler lived up to the nickname "Seattle Slew," scoring 26 points, 21 of which were 3-pointers. Twelve points from Kevin Garnett in the third quarter and Wally Szczerbiak's free throws in the closing seconds sealed Seattle's fate, 111-106. Minnesota went on to rout the Los Angeles Lakers 120-102, as well as Washington and the Los Angeles Clippers, before traveling to Phoenix. Chauncey Billups' 14 first-quarter points were no match for former Wolf Stephon Marbury. Knotted up 100-100 in overtime, Marbury drained a 3-pointer with 4.5 seconds remaining to put the Suns on top, 103-100. After posting a three-point win at Golden State with Terrell Brandon back from knee surgery, the Wolves and a record-breaking Target Center crowd (20,320) welcomed in Michael Jordan and the Washington Wizards. Jordan's 29 points were not enough to overcome the Wizards' 27 percent shooting in the fourth quarter, when the Wolves led by as much as 12 points with less than two minutes remaining. Although the lead changed hands 23 times, Minnesota rode its 65 percent shooting in the third quarter all the way to a win, 105-101. The Wolves ended the month on a slide, going 1-4, winning at home against Atlanta, but losing four games on the road at Detroit, Toronto, Cleveland, and Philadelphia. Garnett was named NBA Western Conference Player of the Week for games played Jan. 7-13.

FEBRUARY (8-4, 39-18)

The Wolves opened February with a 98-95 overtime win in Boston, but followed it up with losses to Sacramento and San Antonio. The loss to the Spurs featured the third-quarter ejections of Tim Duncan and Kevin Garnett–ending Garnett's streak of double-figure scoring at 338 games, the eighth-longest in NBA history. After a win at home against Portland, the Wolves sent two players to Philadelphia for the 2002 All-Star Game on Feb. 10: Kevin Garnett (for the fifth time) and Wally Szczerbiak (for the first time). Garnett had 14 points and 12 rebounds in 24 minutes, while Szczerbiak added 10 points and three assists in 12 minutes to lead the Western Conference to a 135-120 victory. On Feb. 13, the Wolves placed Terrell Brandon on the Injured List. He had surgery the following week to repair a cartilage fracture on the surface of his left femur and was sidelined for the remainder of the season. After posting wins at home against Phoenix, Denver, and Miami, Minnesota completed a four-game road trip with a 3-1 record, losing to Houston, but highlighted by wins at Dallas, Charlotte, and San Antonio. Chauncey Billups scored a career-high 36 points–24 of which came in the third quarter, breaking the old franchise record held by James Robinson–as the Wolves rallied for a 117-100 victory at Dallas. On Feb. 21, Minnesota dealt Dean Garrett and a 2007 second-round pick to Golden State in exchange for Marc Jackson. The Wolves then closed the month with three straight wins, capped by a 112-101 triumph over the Lakers. For his outstanding play during February, Garnett was named Western Conference Player of the Month (the second such award of his career) by averaging 22.1 ppg, 11.9 rpg, and 5.0 apg.

MARCH (6-10, 45-28)

Minnesota faced the Ides of March, going a mere 6-10 for the month. After starting March with a loss against San Antonio, the Wolves rebounded in Utah, beating the Jazz 116-105. In a game that saw Minnesota's bench score 56 points, Will Avery reeled off seven straight points to erase a two-point deficit in the third quarter. The Wolves finished the game going 8-9 from the line to ensure the victory. Posting three losses on the road, at Seattle, Portland, and Phoenix, the Wolves faced yet another defeat at home against the Los Angeles Clippers. The score remained close and the game heated, as Flip Saunders was ejected with 7:51 remaining in the third quarter. With the score tied 75-75 at the start of the fourth quarter, the Clippers scored seven unanswered points and won the game, 108-99. The Wolves then lost a close game at home to Houston, 96-95, in which Gary Trent was ejected after arguing a flagrant foul call. Losses number six and seven in March also came at Target Center against Indiana and Utah, resulting in the second-longest home drought in Wolves' history at 0-5. On March 18, Minnesota signed free agent guard Robert Pack to a 10-day contract, then signed him for the remainder of the season. With Pack in the lineup, the Wolves started 2-2, posting wins against Toronto and Memphis, while losing to Portland and Golden State. Minnesota then opened up a four-game winning streak that extended into April with a win over Dallas. The Wolves led by 12 at the half and were up by as much as 19 in the third quarter. But Dallas cut the lead to one on a Steve Nash trey with one minute remaining. Having possession of the ball, Dallas had a chance to force overtime, but Nash's jumper fell short. Chauncey Billups dished out a club-record 17 assists as the Wolves went on to win, 113-111.

APRIL (5-4, 50-32)

The Wolves opened up April completing a four-game winning streak with a victory against Memphis at Target Center. Minnesota then traveled to Denver and lost a close one, 88-87. Leading by one at the half, the Wolves allowed Denver a 10-0 outburst in the third quarter, but then went back up by one going into quarter four. Following two Anthony Peeler treys, Minnesota held a four-point lead with 50 seconds remaining, but Denver's Voshon Lenard scored the game-winning basket with 11 seconds left in the game. Following a win against Phoenix, the Wolves went 2-2 on the West Coast, posting wins against Golden State and the Clippers, while losing to Sacramento and the Lakers. The Lakers game featured a Wolves team that shot a mere 33.3% on the night. Tied after the first quarter and down by 12 at the half, Minnesota could get no closer than seven off the lead with under seven minutes remaining. The Wolves' frigid shooting was a season-low as the Lakers went on to win, 96-83. After losing to Boston 93-90, Minnesota finished off the regular season with a franchise-record tying win number 50 over Denver. With 60 points coming from the bench, the Wolves shot 51 percent and grabbed 48 rebounds to triumph 104-90.

ACTIVE LIST

The maximum number of active players is 12; the minimum is 11. At no time shall a team be permitted to dress fewer than eight players for a regular-season game or fewer than nine for a playoff game. During the offseason and training camp, teams may carry no more than 20 active players.

INJURED LIST

A player transferred to the Injured List due to injury or illness must stay there for no fewer than five games.

TEN-DAY CONTRACT

On or after the 55th day following the first game, a team may sign a player to a 10-day contract. This procedure may be used only to replace a player assigned to the Injured List. No player may be signed to more than two 10-day agreements.

WAIVERS

From Aug. 15 to the end of the regular season, clubs may claim waived players within 48 hours after notice. Players waived at any other time may be claimed within 10 days. If no team claims the waived player, he becomes a free agent. If more than one club claims a waived player, the club with the lesser record at that time claims the player.

GUARANTEED CONTRACT DATE

On the 56th day of the regular season, all player contracts become guaranteed for the remainder of the season.

RENUNCIATION OF AMATEUR ELIGIBILITY

A person whose high school class has graduated shall become eligible for the college draft if he renounces his intercollegiate basketball eligibility by written notice to the NBA at least 45 days prior to the draft. Prior to 45 days before the draft, teams may not make direct or indirect contact with players who have eligibility left. Clubs may contact players without remaining eligibility, but may not discuss compensation.

UNRESTRICTED FREE AGENT

A player who is free to sign with any team.

RESTRICTED FREE AGENT

A player whose current team has the right to match an offer sheet from another team and retain the player.

OPTIONS

A total of 16 teams qualify for the NBA playoffs: the four division winners and the next six teams in each conference according to their won-lost record, regardless of division. The first round is best-of-five games and each succeeding round, including the NBA Finals, is best-of-seven games.

In every series, the home-court advantage in the extra game goes to the team with the better record during the regular season, regardless of its standing in the division race. Thus, if a division winner plays a second-place team from another division that had a better record, the second-place team would get home-court advantage.

In determining the playoff matches, the eight qualifiers are ranked Teams 1 through 8 (see note below). The playoff pairings for the First Round are teams 1-8, 2-7, 3-6, and 4-5 in each conference. In the conference semifinals, the winner of teams 1-8 plays the winner of teams 4-5 and the winner of teams 2-7 plays the winner of teams 3-6.

The NBA Finals will be played on a 2-3-2 basis, the team with the better regular-season record getting the home-court advantage for the first and last two games. Other best-of-seven series are 2-2-1-1-1.

Some portions of the playoff format were revised in June 1983. A vote by the NBA Board of Governors made the revisions effective in the 1984 playoffs. The major revisions included allowing 16 teams to qualify for the playoffs and changing the first-round best-of-three series to a best-of-five series.

NOTE: Team 1 in each conference is the division winner with the best record. Team 2 is the other division winner. Teams 3-8 are ranked according to their regular-season winning percentage.

Each year, the Timberwolves select a Minnesota non-profit organization to partner with in a multi-dimensional season-long relationship including a $50,000 grant, promotional support and staff involvement. For the 2002-03 season, Ronald McDonald House of the Twin Cities will be the recipient of this grant, which is the highest level of funding that the Timberwolves Foundation provides.

Past Timberwolves "signature charity" partners include Urban Ventures, Fraser Community Services, Washburn Child Guidance Center and Minnesota D.A.R.E., Inc. Each group has contributed in its own unique way to this partnership, making it an ever-evolving experience for the Wolves and the community.

Ronald McDonald House

The Ronald McDonald House of the Twin Cities opened its doors in October 1979 as a supportive home-away-from-home for families whose children are being treated for cancer and other life-threatening illnesses. In more than 20 years of operation, the House has grown from one facility housing eight families to its present expanded capacity of providing a home for 48 families on any given day. The mission of the Ronald McDonald House is to support and strengthen families and communities living with a child's serious illness by providing emotional, financial and educational resources. In addition to providing lodging, the Ronald McDonald House also provides a number of specific programs designed to create a sense of community and to reduce the other costs of daily living. The goal is to minimize financial burdens and maximize emotional support to help families survive the stress of having an ill child while strengthening the values and bonds within the family.

Read to Achieve

The NBA, Timberwolves and Outback Steakhouse have partnered to implement Read to Achieve, a year-round literacy program campaign to help young people develop a life-long love for reading and encourage adults to read regularly with children. Reaching an estimated 50 million children a year, Read to Achieve is the most extensive educational outreach initiative in the history of professional sports. Locally, the program consists of an All Star Reading Team, Reading Time Outs, the refurbishment and creation of reading centers and book donations.

This season the Timberwolves and Outback Steakhouse are excited to launch the Read to Achieve Starting Five incentive program, where every public elementary school in the five-county metro area will receive a set of five selected books and tracking worksheets for students to read and complete at home with adults. Students who complete the set will receive Timberwolves prizes. For more information and supplemental reading activities, please log on to www.timberwolves.com and click on the Community page.

NBA Program (Never Be Absent)

The 2002-03 season marks the third year the Timberwolves present N.B.A. (Never Be Absent), an incentive program targeted at middle school students. Students are rewarded for perfect monthly attendance with prizes including player appearances, pizza parties and tickets to games. All students who reach the attendance goal for the year will be invited to the Celebration held in April.

Thanksgiving Turkey Giveaway

Timberwolves players, coaches and staff distribute several hundred turkeys to needy families and individuals.

Hospital Tour

Timberwolves players, coaches and staff visit area children's hospitals and shelters bringing gifts, smiles and words of encouragement. Sponsored by Just Born.

Holiday Party for Kids

Approximately 200 children from local shelters and community agencies are invited to a party sponsored by the Timberwolves Community Foundation and Optimum Mortgage. The kids enjoy balloons, chats with Santa, face painting and a hot meal. Each child receives a gift certificate good at a local toy store. Timberwolves players, coaches and staff are on hand to distribute the gift certificates and spread holiday cheer.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Holiday Program

In an effort to honor the life and legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., the Timberwolves conduct an hour-long program at Target Center coinciding with the day's game. The format includes a keynote speaker, special musical performances by local and national acts and appearances by Timberwolves players. Past celebrations have included The Boys Choir of Harlem, Olympic Gold Medalist Dominique Dawes, actress Nia Long, Coretta Scott King and Yolanda King.

Tickets for Kids

The Timberwolves donate more than 15,000 tickets per season to non-profit agencies, schools and shelters. Season-ticket holders also donate unused tickets to this program for distribution. This program allows less fortunate individuals to see an NBA basketball game and visit Target Center. Individual and corporate grants for tickets are matched by Timberwolves players and the Timberwolves Foundation.

Taste of the Timberwolves

The primary fundraiser for the Timberwolves Foundation, this casual night of dining and interaction with Timberwolves players and coaches is a once-in-a-lifetime experience for fans. Every year, a dozen of the Twin Cities' finest restaurants donate their food and service to create an unforgettable buffet, while players and coaches take on all challengers in ping-pong, billiards, free throw shooting and other activities. In its six-year history, Taste of the Timberwolves has raised more than $1 million for the Timberwolves Foundation.

Scholarship Program

The Timberwolves and Lynx provide five $2,000 scholarships to high school seniors who are enrolled in college programs for the fall semester. This past year, more than 600 applications were received from students throughout Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota. The scholarships focus on community service, academic achievement and overall character.

Heroes in the Making

At selected home games, the Timberwolves recognize "Heroes in the Making." These individuals are cited for meritorious acts within the Twin Cities area. At each of the selected games, the Timberwolves honor an individual who has committed an act beyond the scope and realm of their everyday occupational focus. There is also a scoreboard recognition and an award presentation citing the individual's commendable act.

Lunch Learners

MORTON'S THE STEAKHOUSE

Morton's of Chicago and the Timberwolves have combined their efforts to create the Lunch Learners program. Lunch Learners gives middle school students an opportunity to eat in an upscale setting while learning fine dining etiquette with Timberwolves players and staff. Hosted by Morton's of Chicago in downtown Minneapolis, the luncheon will be held three times throughout the 2002-03 season as a reward for students who achieve their individual goals.

The NBA is deeply committed to creating programs that improve the quality of life for all people, with a special emphasis on reading and youth programs. Each year the league, its players and its teams donate millions of dollars and hundreds of hours to charities and community outreach programs. Through its extensive outreach programs, team foundations and public service announcements, the NBA is deeply involved in addressing a variety of important social issues in its communities.

Read to Achieve is a year-round program designed to help young people develop a life-long love for reading that will reach an estimated 50 million children a year. It is the most extensive educational outreach initiative in the history of professional sports. In addition to a $100 million a year promotional campaign, the effort includes the annual donation of more than 200,000 books through a variety of reading events and book fairs, as well as the development of essay contests and on-line programs.

With the support of long-time national partners such as RIF and Scholastic Inc., Read to Achieve will create Reading and Learning Centers throughout North America in an effort to provide access to reading materials and technology to young people everywhere. These centers are modeled after the work done at the Eastern Branch of the Boys & Girls Club in Washington, D.C., that was unveiled during All-Star 2001. In addition, a wide variety of reading timeouts, book distribution events, book fairs, reading programs, essay events and on-line programs are being developed for the upcoming season.

Integral components of the program are national and local All-Star Reading Teams comprised of current and former NBA and WNBA players and other members of the NBA family, who promote reading efforts through in-arena events, Public Service Announcements, and community appearances throughout the year.

In recognition of the community outreach of our players, the league has established the Hometown Hero of the Month Award, which honors players whose efforts in the community are truly outstanding. To honor the NBA Player that reflects the passion that the league and its players have for their communities, all 29 NBA teams nominate a player for the Hometown Hero of the Month Award, which is presented 12 times a year.

Awarded annually at the conclusion of each league's regular season, the NBA and WNBA Sportsmanship Awards recognize players who embody the spirit of sportsmanship. The NBA makes a $25,000 donation on behalf of the NBA Sportsmanship Award honoree, and a $10,000 donation on behalf of each of the three divisional awardees, to the high school of their choice. In addition, the NBA will recognize National Sportsmanship Day with local events throughout North America.

The NBA also supports the efforts of Prevent Child Abuse America, the Martin Luther King Holiday, Black History Month, Gallaudet University, and the Thurgood Marshall Scholarship Fund.

One of the most versatile and familiar voices in Minnesota sports broadcasting, Tom Hanneman returns for his 14th season of Timberwolves television broadcasts. This season, Hanneman will serve as play-by-play announcer for all of the Wolves' network broadcasts.

Hanneman's talents have also received nationwide exposure. He worked four seasons as the studio host of NBA Radio, anchoring a 140-station network that featured All-Star Weekend, the NBA Game of the Week and expanded NBA playoff and draft coverage. In addition, Hanneman's NBA Radio work took him to Toronto to host the 1994 World Championship of Basketball for the network, and he hosted a weekly radio show for the BBC in London, in addition to broadcasts in Australia and New Zealand.

Hanneman was already familiar to Minnesota sports fans when he joined the Timberwolves broadcast team in 1989. For the previous 16 years, he was seen by Twin Citians as a news and sports reporter on WCCO-TV. A personable and entertaining style, with a healthy dose of wit, has been a long-time Hanneman trademark.

Born in La Crosse, Wis., Tom resides in Eden Prairie, Minn., along with his wife, Nancy, and their children, Adam, Courtney and Kyle.

EXTREME TEAM

The Minnesota Timberwolves Extreme Team is recognized as the league's most exciting and unique performance team to date. The team's performers come together to create a charismatic blend of innovative, elite dancing and traditional co-ed cheerleading, stunting and tumbling.

The Extreme Team thrives on ensuring that all fans have the ultimate experience while attending each Timberwolves home game. The professional dancers and cheerleaders provide core entertainment through unique, combined performances. Best described as pioneers of implementing a co-ed performance team into NBA entertainment, the combination of men and women has helped elevate the standard of professional performances league-wide.

The dynamics of the men and women on the Extreme Team merge to create an exciting, coordinated display of strength and class. Timberwolves fans are continuously treated to crowd-involved activities, high-flying stunting and the latest in hip hop and jazz dancing.

Each dancer and cheerleader boasts an accomplished and colorful resume. All have been performing nearly as long as they have been able to walk and have made their mark in dance studios, collegiate dance and cheer teams as well as within other professional venues nationwide.

Outside home game performances, Extreme Team members volunteer time promoting various charities and Timberwolves events. The team has become as much a staple in the community as they have on the Target Center court and work hard to bring projects like the NBA's Read to Achieve program closer to the Minnesota community. Members also travel around the country promoting the Timberwolves organization at places like Eglin Air Force Base in Florida and Fort Hood Army Base in Texas.

Innovation, technique and Minnesota pride fuse to create a product designed to bring Timberwolves fans the best in crowd entertainment found anywhere in the NBA today.
